Adjustability

Versatility

The Eden range is made to be a cost-effective, and easily installed system, utilising an adjustable front to ensure this is achieved! With 80mm of adjustability, and 7 different base sizes (pictured on the left), there is a size to fit any bathroom.

As shown in the diagram below, the side panel, before the pivot of the door, slides up and down, allowing you to fully control where the frame starts and finishes! The outer clips also have room for movement, so if you're looking for a little more wiggle room, then we've got you covered!

Adjustability

Versatility

The square series of our Eden range, utilises the same adjustable front, from our in-line system, and additionally uses an adjustable return panel to create a contemporary glass corner design.

As shown in the diagram below, the panel before the pivot of the door, slides along the rail, allowing you to fully control where the frame starts and finishes, with 80mm of adjustment! The outer clips are also adjustable, so if you're looking for a little more wiggle room, then we've got you covered!

The return panel works similarly, and allows for adjustment of 20mm, 10mm on each end! The square series return panel range is one of our larger selections and offers 22 different sizes to choose from!

Make Your Own

Our Eden Range return panels can also be custom built. In the case where our standard sizes don't fit, you can easily purchase the components and cut it to size yourself.

To make your own panel, simply select the return panel components listed on the following page, and then find our laminated glass sizes below.

After selecting the glass you desire and components to suit, simply cut everything to fit the dimensions of your space and piece together your custom panel! Our laminated glass makes for easy cutting, and our slide-in components make for an even easier install!
